SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS.

The Union is occupied to day for the most part with a discussion with the Courier des Etats Unis of the question whether the allies In the Eastern war have or have not managed their matters so far, as well as the United States managed theirs in the Mexican War.

The Intelligencer defends itself against the Union and Sentinel in the matter of its original denial that Mr. Senator Sumner is an abolitionist, and its subsequent paragraph attributing to him an abolition speech. The editor thinks it is rather hard that he should be held indirectly responsible for the course of Senator Sumner, inasmuch as that gentleman was elected by democratic, not whig The Sentenel rates the Union roundly for taking ground against those nominal democrats in New York, who are wielding the tomahawk against the party. BLACKWOOD. - We are indebted to Taylor &

Ledger says, "we are requested by the President of Military Convention, held in Philadelphia, January 9, 1854, to publish the following notice:" "The defenders of the country in the second war of independence who still survive, and the children of such as are dead, are requested to send delegates to the city of Washington, to attend a convention, to be held there on the 8th of January next, 1855, to adopt such measures as will induce Congress not only to do justice to them, but also to the widows of those who have gone to their last account." How the New York Papers Obtain their FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE .- A trial came of in the Marine Court of New York, last week, of some of the papers is manufactured: "It appears that one Snobson, who undertook to manufacture here in New York the London Correspondence' of the National Demcerat, and in which he wrote all manner of lying abuse of Charles Dickens and others, who had snubbed him in London, sued the proprietor for $175, the amount of his claim. The defendant offset the claim, with a charge of an equal amount for puffing Snobson's forthcoming book. And the verdict was rendered for the defendant, with an allowance of $10 for costs."

The need of a new translation of the Bible has, of late attracted considerable attention in the religious world, the result of which has been to awaken more thoroughly the public mind to the alleged necessity for a new version. The fact is announced by learned committee of the American Bible Society, that the received version of the Bible, published by King James, contains errors no less than twenty-four thousand in number.

The Cuban expedition, about which we heard so much some time since, as having its head quarters at New Orleans, is announced in a letter from that place as having failed, with no probability of future success. It is also stated that one of the members of the grand jury at New Orleans, which pretended to investigate the truth of the rumored expedition, was the recording secretary of the Cuban committee.

RAPID INCREASE.—The St. Louis (Missouri) Democrat estimates that within one year from this date, there will be at least one hundred thousand people in Kansas, which will entitle the territory to admission as a State.

The whole number of the company in Sir John Franklin's two vessels, the Erebus and Terror, when they left England, May 24, 1845-nearly ten years since-was one hundred and thirty-eight. These, by the late accounts, have all perished.

The Fort Leavenworth Military Reservation. The Government owns more land, as military reservation, immediately around Fort Leavenworth, than is required for its military of Government of Kansas, it is thought, will be located on or very near that reservation. If what can be spared there be sold by commissioners for the benefit of the United States. under such restrictions and securities as will insure an honest accountability for the proceeds of such sale, and that it shall be conducted fairly in all respects, the treasury cannot fail to be greatly benefited thereby. If however, prompt action be not taken in the premises, some fine morning it will, probably be found that the property has been hunni fuggled beyond the reach of the rightful owner-the United States. Such things have oecurred more than once in the history of the Government's affairs in the far West. Congress is usually made the "go-between" for such operations. Thus, amendments are tacked to bills in the hurry of the last hours of session, meaning very differently from what most of those voting for them in a hubbub and flurry suppose them to mean. It always happens that they mean at least something to enrich somebody at the public's expense, who would not be so enriched by the action of Congress, if the majority knew precisely what they were about in so doing. We already hear of a design to apply to Congress, next winter. to legislate upon the subject of this reservacase, the regular speculating, inveterate gambler in the public lands,) will be duly protected in his rights and interests. We presume that the sale of this property will be duly treated of in the forthcoming reports of the Secretaries of War and of the Treasury, who will, doubtless, take good care to point out to honorable members the danger of sac rificing the public interest for the benefit of the land pirates whose hearts are so set or fobbing this particular rich prize.

The Port of Samana, &c. - We perceive from the last news from England, that the London Times seems greatly worried at the succes of the United States in negotiating with the Dominican Republic for special privileges in the port and magnificent bay of Samana. The Times for a year or two did its best to in duce the Government of England to forestal the United States in this matter, and now com plains that, in failing to take its advice, the ministry have lost the most important acquisition for English commerce within their reach. The editor, in the remarks to which we refer, reminds his readers that he als urged the Government to embrace the offer of the transit route over the Nicaraguan isthmus made a few years ago, which, being refused, was subsequently opened by New Yorkers, who have made out of it not only the best and (politically, to the United States) vastly the most important route for overland intercommunication between the Atlantic and Pa cific, but have also realised immense fortunes out of the profits accruing from their enter prise thus directed. We judge from the drift of the Times in its article on this subject, that the master minds controlling its opinions were under the impression that these two achievements-the appropriation of the Nicaraguan isthmus and of the port and bay of Samana by the United States have immeasurably height. ened our commercial and political pros pects in the West Indies, Central and South America, and the Pacific, insuring us, as it were, supremacy over European interests any where in those quarters, whenever they may come into collision with ours.

We are highly gratified to find such admissions in the great newspaper of the world; inasmuch as we have repeatedly taken occasion to urge that the Government and people of the United States have more to gain at the expense of the Old World, out of the firm and exclusive establishment of our national influence over the Bay of Samana and the Nicaraguan isthmus, than in any possible settlement at this time of any question in abeyance with a foreign government with reference to any other foreign part of the globe. The article in the Times, to which we refer, cannot be read without opening one's eyes to the wisdom of the policy in pursuance of which the freebooters of San Juan were lately made to feel that they are not hereafter to interfere directly or indirectly with American interests and rights in that quarter.

The party of the American Commissioner, as well as the property in their charge, had escaped without loss by the great storm in that quarter. The Fever in Baltimore -The Baltimore Patriot demands of us to say what fever it is that so rages in Baltimore at this time, as to render it probable that the United States naval recruits now there will be removed to some other point. In answer, we have to say, that according to the best information at our command, it is the yellow fever. So, a least, says the reported communication from the United States naval officer stationed in Baltimore, upon which this action of the Department seems to be expected in naval circles ng strated is anticipated. Rumored Abandonment of the Protectorate (so-called) of the Mosquito Kingdom. - We have a private dispatch from New York, saying that this morning's papers of that city contain a dispatch from this city, to the effect purposes in that immediate vicinity. The seat I that the English Government has abandoned the Protectorate of Greytown. Now, we have every reason to believe that this is not altogether correct. A month and more ago, the English Consul at San Juan del Norte (otherwise Greytown) notified the inhabitants there that they need not expect the interference of the English Government for the enforcement of their views of their own territorial and sovereighty rights, as against the United States. It is very probable that the English Embassy here received, by the Pacific, dispatches embracing official information similar to this notification of their consul at San Juan. It is known that it was not long since the determination of the Ministry to send the Boscawen (ninety-gun ship) down to that region. That determination, it is now believed in Washington, has been abandoned. . The ship is at Halifax at this time, and her commander and the shore authorities there are not expecting that she will sail on any such mission or enterprise. England is at present very anxious, evidently, to hold the Mosquito question in abeyance, or we are much mistaken. She will not send her ships of war there. As, while at present engaged so seriously with Russia, she desires, if possible, to leave her matters in issue on this side of the Atlantic precisely as they are. The presence of her tion, so that the "poor squatter," (i. e., in this ships of war in San Juan harbor could hardly fail, just now, to complicate them greatly, forcing her to come to the general settlement with us of the Mosquito dispute, which she is striving to avoid until Russia unties her hands. It strikes us as being the policy of this Government to force her, to come to the set tlement with as little delay as possible and we take it for granted that that pelicy is being carried out with due energy by the authorities here, and our able and sagacious

FIRE DEP ARTMENT .- According to the record kept by the Clerk of the Cincinnati Fire Department, the total amount of losses by fires in that city during the six months, ending September 30, 1854, was $96,762, on which the total amount of insurance was $77,456. During the same period of the year 1853, the aggregate of losses by fire in Cincinnati was $313,542, and the insurance $176,480. these facts, so pregnant with meaning, the Gazette of that city thus remarks :

"From this statement it appears that the loss by fire in six months of 1854 was $206, 780, or almost seventy per cent. less than in the same period in the year before; while the losses of the Insurance Companies in the six months of 1854 were $99,024, or more than 1853. In the present month there has been only one fire,—the burning of a bed in the Dennison House, loss $10. The engines have been called out but once during the past two months, and that was to the fire in Hart's Building. These facts speak louder for the new system than volumes of eulogy."

POLYGAMY DEPENDED BY A MORMON ELDER The Cleveland Plain Dealer has a letter from James McKnight, a Mormon Elder with two wives, in which he defends polygamy, and

"Our young ladies, accomplished and beau-tiful, often choose a man with ten, or twenty, or forty wives, in preference to an attractive young gentleman who has not one; thus showing their good taste and regard for age and experience. If one of your most pelite, polished, fashionable, and fascinating young gentlemen should come here, he would find it very difficult to get a wife; and if he succeeded at all, she would in all probability be one whom our gray-headed and infirm old would refuse."

He also contends that there is more humanity among the Mormons in the family of s man who has ten wives, than in the mass of families elsewhere, where one wife presides mistress of the house, husband and children. This is attributed to the fact that in the Mormon belief, "the husband is the head of the wife, and her Lord and Savior, and unless she is obedient and submissive to him, she cannot be saved." He says further :- "There are instances of from six to ten wives habiting one dwelling, and living amicably; though for the most part each wife has her own house and rules her own children. The children are under the mother s care until they arrive atomaturity, or at an age when their father needs their services not have alleged their services not have alleged to be given to be given to be a serviced to be a serv no for repairs?

BALTIMORE CORRESPONDENCE

he Baltimore and Ohio Railroad-The Contest for the Presidency-Messrs. Har rison and Swann-The Biter Bit-The Turf-False Report. BALTIMORE, Oct. 31, 1854.

I learn that there is incalculable wire-pulling just about this time among the stockholders-or, rather, certain large and deeply interested stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in reference to the pending election of president of that company. The friends of Mr. Harrison, the present incumbent, and of Mr. Swann, also a candidate, are moving heaven and earth to accomplish their ends. The president is elected by a majority of the Board of Directors. This board, some days ago, had a majority of one in favor Mr. Harrison. Very recently, however, I learn that one Harrison man has changed his coat, and is now favorable to Mr. Swann. Thus, if an election were to come off, it would be a tie vote, provided all were present. The most important thing now open for accomplishment, is to get one more of Mr Harrison's friends to bolt and join the reform or Swann party. A vest interest is at stake, and no means will be left untried (honorable, of course,) to get the needed vote. The individual stockholders who seem most to desire the removal of Mr. Harrison, and the election of Mr. Swann, are Johns, Hopkins, Columbus, O'Donnell, Robert Garret & Sons, and some half a dozen others who are heavy owners of the stock. The gentlemen seem anxious that the road should pay a dividend, that the stock should advance, and that other traces e pulled to their especial interest. Mr. Harrison and those who think with him contend that the road under present circumstances, is not prepared to expend its earnings in this way. A tremendous debt still hangs upon it, important repairs are to be made, and they advocate a general system of economy having an eye to future benefit and to the putting o this great enterprise upon a more solid, equitable and safe foundation. It is a truth so clear as to be transpare t to all eyes that this work is deeply in debt, and, I may say, vexingly embarrassed. To buoy t, therefore, and, in brokers' phraseology, "kite he stock, as it once was, far above real value, in order to please and accommodate a few stock-jobbing tockholders, must eventuate deleteriously, and place the work in a worse condition than it now is A temporary inflation might, and doubtless would take place, under the novelty of a new administration, but this must be ephemeral, and finally recoil upon, perhaps, innocent parties. I have not one word to say against Mr. Swann. His energies and tact were fully exemplified when president of the road during its completion to the Ohio. Yet many are of the opinion that he excited hopes far beyond the power of realization. He is a gentleman o great financial ability, and would, perhaps, again do well, improving upon past experience. Mr. Harrison, however, has been tried in the fiery ordeal, and stands before the world without a blemish. Honesty, that mightiest of all commendation, stands ou pre-eminently in his favor. He has cautiously and scrupulously aimed to exhibit the truth, to hold the mirror up to nature, and in this, perhaps, has been his chief offending. What the result will be, is difficult now to divine; but independent of extraneous and deeply self-interested motives, chances preponderate in his favor for a re-election. The fact is there has been, and is, too much stock-jobbing in the stock of this concern. It is bandled about between bull and bear, day after day, year in and year out, until the true interests of the road and of the community, are lost sight of. Every whim and caprice are brought to bear upon it until the law of propulsion and resistance, aided by centripetal and entrifugal forces, it has almost demonstrated that incomprehensible parodox, a perpetual motion. Un-til something be done by which the stock of this company assume a more stable character—until shall have been relieved from the horns of the "bull," and paws of the "bear," it must fail to secure confidence, and the road be in questionable repute. An affair came off to-day in the office of Ju tice brought the presenter to prosecutor up all standing. It seems that a person, named Welch, who keeps a hotel up town, charged a young man, named Pennington, with robbing his drawer of $50. The youth was brought before a m. gistrate, and Welch testi-fied that he had stolen his money. He was a rather wayward son of Justice Pennington. Soon after, counter action was brought. Witnesses were adduced, including Mrs. Welch, (formerly Miss Susan Creamer, of Washington,) who testified that Welch took the money himself, and falsely charged the in necent young man. A writ was issued, and Mr. W was sent to prison upon the charge of perjury.

The great match race (trot to harness) between Billy McDonald's "Phelix" and Mr. Corderay's 'Joe," for $2,000 a side, comes off over the Herring Run Course on Wednesday. Quite an interest is manifested in this affair. It will, doubtless, be largey attended. The bets on "Phelix." as the favorite. I observe in your paper of to-day, a paragraph headed "Fever at Baltimore," stating that the re cruits on the Ontario in our harbor, would probably be removed for a time in consequence of the fever This is news to Baltimore. It may be designed to remove the recruits, but there is certainly no fever n that region of the city to produce serious alarm. The oyster dealers here have quite a slim patronage, owing to the prevailing opinion that oysters thus far in the season are unhealthy. Bad ones certainly are; and good may be eaten with caution vet awhile. The importation of these delicacies never were so large, and some boatmen have been obliged to give cargoes to persons for the taking of them

Frand Firemen's Procession-Ladies Fair-Hand-in-Hand Soiree-Presbyterian Synod-Railroad Festival.

ALEXANDRIA, Nov. 1, 1854. Monday was a grand gala day with our firemen. Early in the afternoon, the Hydraulion Fire Company, equipped in the new uniform, assembled at their engine house, and having received Prosperi's band and an escort from the Sun and Friendship, the procession formed in the following order: first, Prosperi's Brass Band, which discoursed superb music hroughout the entire route; then, headed by two axemen in the picturesque costume of the American Indians, came the Sun Fire Company, wearing red fire hat and red shirt with blue velvet collar—C. D. Budd, and A. McCormick, Vice Presidents; the recent illness of their gallant President, Hugh Latham, rendering his absence unavoidable. A delegation from the Friendship Fire Company, Major B. Phomas, President, followed, after which came the Hydraulion Fire Company, ... H. Smith, Marshal, B. Barton, Esq., President, and Isaac Entwistle, Vice President. This corps were equipped in Firemen's blue hat, with brass bl ze inscribed H . Co., light drab coat, black patent leather belt. and black pants. They turned out strong, and their first appearance in a new uniform elicited universal dmiration. The Hydraulion drew after them the handsome suction built for them a few years since by William Simpson, of Baltimore, but which, under he hands of Messrs. Hurdle and Son, came out into the gala as fresh as the first day of its arrival in Alexandria. Upon the boards of this neat piece of apparatus were perched six boys, four dressed as furks, and two wearing the color and habitiments of the red men. The whole procession was under the direction of Jas. S. Douglas, Chief Marshal. From the Hydraulion engine house the procession moved through our principal streets, stopping at the ospitable mansion of Mr. James Douglas, where the firemen were handsomely entertained, and at the Nebraska House, where they partook of the generosity of the President of the Friendship. At o'clock, the procession re-formed and proceeded to the Ladies Fair, at Sarepta Hall. The Fair, which is the affair of the season, opened with a dense crowd, yet all went merrily as a marriage bell. Notwithstanding the large attendance not a harsh word disturbed the universal harmony. Pleasure reigned upreme during the entire time. On the same evening our friends of the Hand-in-Hand Club tripped on the light fantastic toe to the music of Bowden's Band in a soirce at their hall. All went off pleasantly with them, and t were continued until a late hour.

SAVE YOUR LIVES!! IME and again for ages have the eyes of the medical world been imploringly and deeply set n vain in a labyrinth of thought for the purpose of findding a remedy for that monster, Consumption. The press has called loudly in its columns for unceasing efforts to an interposition between this destroyer and death, and the entire public who have fallen by thousands in its path have reiterated in loud and emphatic strains a call for protection. Never, in the revolutions of the past, has a response, ample in its relief, been given to the wishes of the world at arge, until within the last few months, in which time, Dr. Tappan, a celebrated physician of Baltimore, who has been arduously engaged for years in the study of this disease, has finally the great and desirable preventative. He can positively, apart from all quackery, cure effectually that heretofore incurable disease, Consumption, which is carrying so many promising and useful lives to a premature All who are afflicted with this killing hydraheaded monster, as they value their lives, should at once fly to inevitable protection. Dr. T. has, in conection with the above grand attainment, a decided relief for cancers, which he will effectually remove in from seven to ten days. He removes the cancer together with all its influences, so that a return is impossible. He also will cure, without the least failure, the most deep rooted case of dyspepsia, in from forly to sixty days. Persons who, without humbuggery, wish to be saved from these giant evils, would discover their wants in giving Dr. Tappan a trial. He can be found at Mrs. Little's, on C between and 6th streets, where all calls will be a ten-tively responded to. He will remain but a few days; therefore, delay not, but call at once. nov 1-1t
